

Dear Dr. habil. Andor Krisztián,

I would like to express my sincere gratitude for your thorough, rigorous and insightful evaluation of my PhD dissertation entitled Developmental Gait Biomechanics and Task-Specific Plantar Loading in Children: Implications for Sensory Processing Disorder and Balance.

I highly appreciate your careful review and positive recognition of the structural optimization, methodological supplementation, analytical improvement, theoretical synthesis, as well as methodological transparency enhancement I have made in the final version of my dissertation.

It is greatly encouraging to me that you affirmed the rationality and completeness of all the revisions and supplements I completed in the official defense version, and confirmed the acceptability of all three core thesis points. Your professional academic comments fully acknowledge the scientific merit and integrity of my doctoral research work.

I truly value your rigorous academic attitude and constructive academic comments. In the follow-up work, I will further polish the language and logical presentation of the dissertation, and continue to deepen my research on developmental gait biomechanics and sensory-motor regulation in children.

Thank you again for your precious time, professional review and generous recognition of my PhD research.

Best regards,

Liu Wei
